

Xelto Sp. z o.o. and the General Data Protection Regulation

To protect the personal data of individuals and customers in the European Union and to keep up with everchanging technology, as per the May 25, 2018 the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into effect. The GDPR impacts every organization which stores or processes personal data of individuals across the European Union. The GDPR aims to strengthen the rights of individuals over their personal data and creates a harmonized personal data protection standard.

Consistent with the Xelto company values and business principles data privacy is also at the heart of Xelto's approach to the GDPR. Xelto fully understands the importance of data privacy standards to our customers and recognizes the obligations that apply to managing, storing and processing personal data.

As a trusted partner to professionals, Xelto wants our customers to be confident that their personal data are protected. Xelto engaged in GDPR program. Xelto has reviewed the data processes (policies, standards and documentation) and practices throughout our company and implemented processes to protect personal data. Xelto trained its employees on their responsibilities and new ways of working related to GDPR; Xelto partners with third parties and vendors to ensure their compliance and assessed customer contracts and continue to work with our customers to help to support them.

Xelto is committed to protecting our customers' personal data. Xelto delivers on this promise by striving to keep information secure and respecting the rights of individuals to protect their personal data and to support your commitments to your clients.

For information about how Xelto manages personal data, please contact info@xelcode.com